

TWENTY-FOURTH YEAR

EARLINGTON, HOPKINS COUNTY, KY., TUESDAY, MAY 13, 1913

No. 36

County Commercial Club Organized

Large Number of Representatives---Earlington Citizens Join the Club And Will Boost.

EXECUTIVE BOARD ELECTED.

The Hopkins County Commercial Club was organized under most favorable conditions Thursday night at the court house with a membership of fifty-seven leading citizens of the city of Madisonville and the county. Organized along broad and liberal lines this club should enlist the support and sympathy of the people of the entire county, and the membership will doubtless grow very rapidly. Already a number of new names have been added to the list of those joining at the Thursday night meeting, and an active campaign for membership is being waged.

The determination to make the club a factor in the development of the city of Madisonville and Hopkins county was the keynote of all that was said and done at the meeting Thursday night. A number of the leading citizens of the city and of Earlington made speeches warmly commending the broad and liberal policy of the promoters of the club, and promising their undivided support to the purposes of the organization.

A strong board of directors was chosen and in informal meeting of this board was held after the adjournment of the meeting, and several matters were discussed. A meeting of this board was called for Monday night of this week at the Hotel Madison for the purpose of electing the officers of the club, and appointing committees. Plans for spreading the work and mapping out a campaign for the betterment of the county will be made at this meeting. The constitution provides that the officers of the club must be elected from the membership of the board of directors, with the exception of the secretary, who may be any one selected by the board.

Meeting Called to Order.
The meeting at the court house was called to order at 8 o'clock, after a number of pleas by the band, by Mayor D. W. Gatlin, who read the call as issued and commented on the evident need for the organization of a commercial body for the city and for the county. J. T. Alexander, chairman of the committee appointed by the hustler to issue the call for this meeting, was nominated for temporary chairman and unanimously elected. F. B. Arnold was elected temporary secretary and W. W. Smoak, assistant temporary secretary, after which a number of short addresses were made, and the permanent organization effected.

James R. Rash.
James R. Rash believes Hopkins county the superior of any county in the state, Jefferson county alone excepted. Boosting the county would be the best thing in the world for us to do unselfishly. He was heartily in favor of the organization.

D. H. Kincheleo.
D. H. Kincheleo said the more he studied the matter the more he was impressed with the idea. Because a club failed here before is no reason why one should fail again. Madisonville is one of the largest towns in the country without a commercial club. There are many things that can be done, such as improved railroad facilities and better schedules. The club should be run along broad lines and be progressive.

Ed Wise.
Ed Wise, of Earlington, was next called upon. He felt that a commercial club for Hopkins county would accomplish great good. Good roads were a prime necessity, and to build them needs concerted action. The people of Madisonville and Hopkins county can get anything they please out of the railroads if they go after it strong enough.

Jno. G. B. Hall.
Judge J. G. B. Hall thought the organization should go along practical lines and go after those things that we can get. Perhaps we cannot bring big factories here, but we can do many things. Factional lines should be eliminated and the city should clasp hands with the country. He was heartily in favor of the organization.

Geo. C. Atkinson.
Geo. C. Atkinson, president of the St. Bernard Mining Co., of Earlington, briefly excused himself from making a speech, but promised his support and to do everything in his power to make the club a success.

Frank D. Rash.
Frank D. Rash, of Earlington, was next called upon, and responded in a practical talk. The farmer needs better roads to market his produce, and he should be encouraged to raise everything needed on the farm. Nothing should be shipped into Hopkins county.

M. K. Gordon.
M. K. Gordon had joined every club in the history of the city. He was glad to get a call to organize, for he had been thinking the time was ripe. The club should start right, and much good can be accomplished. Begin with a determination to stick to it, and success will follow.

Frank B. Arnold.
Frank B. Arnold, of Earlington, was of the opinion that the club would fill a long felt want in the county. The tide of immigration which had been settling west for the past quarter of a century would in the next quarter of a century set again east, where cheap lands can be obtained. We should be in position to take care of this tide of immigration when it does set in. Factional lines should be eliminated. Most of the people in the towns come from the country, and everybody in the towns wish they were in the country. We should beat ourselves for good roads, and he was of the opinion that the $10,000 recently appropriated for the construction of a public building for Madisonville by the United States government would be better expended in building a mile of road each direction from the city.

Committee on Constitution.
On motion of Mr. Fowler, Mayor Gatlin, F. P. Stum and L. E. Ruby were appointed a committee to submit a constitution and by-laws. The report of this committee was unanimously adopted, and the name Hopkins County Commercial Club adopted.

Members Enrolled.
Upon a call by Chairman Alexander for enrollment of members the following names were handed in:

UNIQUE BET PROPOSED

Memphis Shiner Offers Walking Wager About The 1914 Convention

Memphis, Tenn., May 8.—The rivalry between Memphis and Atlanta for the next Shiner's convention took an interesting twist today. Down in Atlanta Forrest Adair, millionaire realty dealer, clubman and potentate of Yassar Temple, is giving out interviews to the effect that it's all over but the shouting for Atlanta. He says that Atlanta has the convention clinched and stewed up, stored away, in fact, in its right hand hip pocket.

Here in Memphis, however, the officials of Al Chymia just laugh when Atlanta is mentioned. They admit that the Georgia city would get the convention were it not for the fact that Memphis wants it.

To make things worth while, O. K. Houck, chairman of the Shiner's finance committee, has offered Mr. Adair a unique wager.

If Atlanta gets the convention Mr. Houck will walk back to Memphis from Dallas.

If Memphis lands the prize Mr. Adair is to walk from the Texas city to Memphis.

If neither Atlanta nor Memphis is fortunate, then both Mr. Houck and Mr. Adair are to walk to Memphis. There are 4,246,821 cross ties between Dallas and Memphis, to say nothing of 199 treaties, but Mr. Houck says that he is game.

Mr. Adair has not been heard from.

COAL MINE ACCIDENTS

Decrease in Fatalities January and February as Compared with 1912

GIVES HOPE THAT THIS YEARS RECORD MAY BE BETTER

Washington, D. C. May, 12.—According to the figures compiled by the Bureau of Mines there were 213 men killed in and about the coal mines of the United States in January and 197 in February, 1913, a total of 410 in the first two months of the year. This statement does not include fatalities in Kentucky, Georgia, California, and Oregon. Excluding these four States there were 243 men killed in January and 207 in February, 1912 a total of 450, or 40 more than were killed during the first two months of this year. The record for January and February, 1913, therefore gives rise to the hope that the fatality rate for the current year may be even lower than those for 1912, when the death rate per million tons of coal mined (4.29) was the lowest ever recorded for this country, and the death rate per 1,000 men employed (3.15) was the lowest since 1899.

In the compilation of monthly statistics of coal-mine fatalities in the United States, the Bureau of Mines is indebted for the record of fatalities to the State mine inspectors. In Kentucky, the operators are allowed by law a period of 60 days to make reports of fatal accidents to the State mine inspector, and accordingly, statistics for this State are not yet available. Statistics for California, Georgia, and Oregon are not included in this report, as these States have no system of coal-mine inspection and it is impracticable for this bureau to obtain monthly reports from the operators. The total coal production of the three States named amounts to less than one twentieth of 1 per cent of the entire output of the country, and the fatalities in their coal mines are few, only five men being killed in 1912. So far as comparative monthly statistics are concerned, therefore, California, Georgia, and Oregon may be disregarded.

The bureau recognizes that the improvement made in mine safety conditions during the last few years has been brought about largely by more efficient mine inspection on the part of the State mine inspectors throughout the country, supplemented by greater care on the part of the miners and operators. Whether the reduction in the loss of life shown by the record for January and February, 1913, will be continued throughout the year depends to a great extent on the strict adherence on the part of the operators and miners to the rules and recommendations of the mine inspectors and to the exercise of due caution by the miners to avoid unnecessary risks.

Plant Beds Destroyed

Dawson Springs, Ky., May. 8.—To-bacco plant bed vandalism is reported from the northwestern portion of this county. Not only are plant beds being ruined by grass seedling, but in some sections, beginning two or three miles west of here and extending into northern Caldwell and eastern Webster counties, the regulation way, "when night-riding was in bloom," of ripping the canyos off and scraping the beds, has been resorted to.

MOTHER'S DAY

A Great Day at M. E. Church South Last Sunday

"Mother's Day" was observed at the M. E. Church South Sunday and proved to be a day long to be remembered by great congregations at both services.

The program being carried out to the letter, every mother was a guest in the Father's house and was welcomed by a committee of charming young ladies who presented every mother with a white carnation in token of the "Dignity of Motherhood."

The Sunday School gave a special devotional service which was helpful and inspiring, after which the usual Sunday School teaching service was held.

The morning audience at the preaching service was unusually large and the pastor, W. A. Grant delivered an appropriate and helpful sermon on the subject of "Christian Motherhood."

A splendid service was held in the evening the congregation being large and appreciative. There were four additions to the church. All in all it was truly a great day.

Oldest Grand Jury on Record

The following interesting facts in regard to the present panel of the grand jury, deserves attention. It is most likely the oldest panel ever assembled in the county, their combined ages total more than 653 years, their average age is over 54 years each their weight totals 1973 lbs. with an average of over 104 lbs. Their total height is 68 ft. averaging 5 ft. 8 inches each. In politics 9 are democrats, 2 are republicans, in religion, three are Methodists, two are baptists, two belong to the Church of God and two have no church affiliation. Four are Free Masons, two are K. of P's, one of these is also a Woodman. There is one Odd Fellow and five have no lodge membership. Five are over 60 years old and but two are less than 40. The oldest man is 67, the youngest is 34 and at least half of the panel is doing first service.

GOOD RESULTS FROM WEBB LAW

Anti-Saloon League Members of Kentucky to See That It Is Enforced

DRY TERRITORY TO BE DRY

The triumphant exultation of the leaders of the Anti-Saloon league over the enactment of the Webb law is manifest in many directions.

An active worker and prominent Kentucky member of the league, when recently asked concerning the effect of the law, made the following statement:

"We hope for great and good results from the Webb law, and we intend to see that it is enforced.

"It is not so much the bootlegger and blind-tiger peddler that we were after when we asked congress to pass the Webb law. The local state authorities can always get after them, but what we want is some means of stopping shipments for personal use.

"What is the use of our going to the effort and expense of voting a county or state dry if every man in such territory can order and get liquor shipped to him for his own use and the use of his friends and family? It is this practice that we intend to break up.

"Where a territory is voted dry we intend it shall be really dry.

"We demanded of congress and secured the passage of the Webb law after years of effort, and we have no intention of letting a stream of whiskey flow into dry territory protected by the exchequer of a right to get the stuff for personal use.

It is this very personal use traffic which we intend to stop.

"If the country is to be taught temperance by our efforts, this shipping of liquor to the homes must be stopped. This is the logical attitude of the Anti-Saloon league.

"Having, as we claim, the right to secure the regulation of the people in their personal habits, so far as the use of liquor is concerned—not only in public, but in their homes—we will seek to use the strong arm of the law in enforcing our plans.

"To this end efforts are being made to have enacted in all the states laws similar to the Kentucky statute which prohibits express and railroad companies from carrying liquor from a 'wet' county to a 'dry' county for personal use.

"There will be real prohibition when a man can not get a quart of liquor shipped to him for his household use, but it is surely coming, and the people of Kentucky and the rest of the country may as well prepare to welcome the day."

Scores Of Suits Have Been Filed

Elizabethtown, Ky., May 8.—Two hundred and ninety-four suits were filed yesterday afternoon in the Hardin Circuit Court by the Commonwealth of Kentucky against the American and Adams Express Companies for $100 damages each for delivering liquor in Hardin county, local option territory, after the passage of the Webb bill, which prohibits even interstate shipment.

JOHN X. TAYLOR HAS ENTERED POLITICS.

Our former esteemed townsman, John X. Taylor, has launched into politics in Muhlenburg County, having announced himself a candidate for county clerk. Mr. Taylor was for some years a citizen of Earlington and while here conducted successfully a good business in drugs and medicines, holding meanwhile the confidence and esteem of all who knew him. He was active, too, in republican politics during his residence in Hopkins County and, of course—in Hopkins—without hope of fee or reward. Mr. Taylor is a man of sterling worth and a high order of integrity, energetic and wholly competent. If he wins there are many friends in Hopkins who will be pleased, and he deserves to win.

Lincoln Beachey, the "Master bird-man," has renounced flying and now says he could not be forced to enter an aeroplane at the muzzle of a gun. He declares he "feels like a murderer," because other men he knows, including Kerney and Welsh, died trying to imitate him. It is to be hoped that Beachey's new example will be followed.

To The Democrats Of Earlington And Vicinity

You know probably, that I have announced my candidacy for the office of Representative of Hopkins county in our state Legislature, subject to the action of the democratic primary in August.

I became a candidate at the earnest solicitation of many of my former friends to which class of citizens I, myself belong and to whom I owe my first allegiance and deepest interest.

Since my announcement I have received splendid assurances from all portions of our county from this class of our citizenship that my candidacy is being well received by them.

Now, that your distinguished citizen, my friend, Dr. E. A. Davis, has seen proper to withdraw from the race, may I not in confidence ask your kind consideration of my candidacy and expect your influence in my behalf and your votes?

I have no long list of promises to make as to what I will do if elected. I believe there is too much law making. Some laws need modifying, some should be abolished and a few new laws enacted, probably; but the great and important duties of your representative, as I see it, is to keep a close watch over the expenditure of the money of the people in the economic administration of our state government.

The farmer and laboring man are not asking any advantage over their neighbor and they ask that no advantage be given against them. To this end I offer the best there is in me.

I have been informed that it is being persistently circulated that I have strong opposition in my own home town and am not at all popular in Madisonville. I do not suppose that it makes any difference with you what the citizens of my town may think of me as we are all neighbors and you have as full opportunity of knowing me as any other people, but as an offset against this false report, I ask you to make inquiry for yourselves and in the meantime I assure you upon my honor that I had no ill will against me here, but assurances that are very satisfactory to me that I will receive a vote in the August primary from Madisonville that will be very complimentary and certainly all I can reasonably ask or expect.

Respectfully
JOHN G. R. HALL.

John Robinson of the Victoria mines was in the city Friday afternoon on business.

BRONCHITIS SUFFERER

Takes Druggist's Advice With Splendid Result.

If anyone should know the worth of a medicine, it is the retail druggist, who sells it over his counter every day in the week, and is in a position to know what remedy gives the best satisfaction.

Mrs. Frank H. Uline, of West Sand Lake, N. Y., says: "For a number of years I was a great sufferer from bronchitis. Last July I had an attack which was more severe than any, and my friends thought I could not recover from it. Then I was advised by my druggist to try Vinol, which I did, with wonderful results. My cough has left me; I have gained in weight and appetite, and I am as strong as ever I was. I advise all who have bronchitis, chronic coughs, or who are run down to try Vinol."

It is the combined action of the medicinal curative elements of the cod's liver, without the greasy oil, aided by the blood-making and strength-giving properties of tonic iron that makes Vinol so efficient.

Remember, we guarantee Vinol to do just what we say -- we pay back your money if it does not.

Madisonville Notes

Miss Sarah Hayes, made friends in Earlington a visit Monday evening.

All the boys that attended the Derby meeting in Louisville have returned home, some much the wiser.

Circuit Court is still in session and they are getting the cases off the docket in good shape. Only a few indictments have been turned in from the Grand Jury room.

George Scruggs, who was arrested a few weeks ago in the act of breaking in the Southern Express office was tried Monday and found guilty and was given from one to five years in Eldyville. All the Malt Ale cases from Earlington was tried yesterday. They were fined various amounts. The grand jury will possibly be at work the rest of this week.

Sunday night the commencement exercises of the Madisonville High school will commence by a sermon by the Rev. C. F. Wimberly and close Tuesday night with a banquet at the Masonic Temple. Ten members will graduate this year from this school.

Earlington was well represented at the meeting of the Commercial Club that held its first meeting here Thursday night. Citizens from all parts of the county were present and it looks as if it was an assured success. They will meet tonight at the Madison hotel and finish the work of organizing that was commenced that night. Addresses from prominent citizens from all over the country were made and enjoyed.

The city council met Thursday afternoon and the usual routine of business was transacted. A contract was made with Mr. Jenks, of Tennessee, who is to be constructing engineer and will receive a per cent of all the moneys spent in building the city water works up to $20,000. License were granted several parties to sell soft drinks.

J. W. McDonald, spent Sunday with relatives and friends in Central City.

W. N. Martin, of Earlington was in the city on business Saturday afternoon.

Abduction of Louisville Girl

New York, May, 7.—A sentence of not less than two years nor more than ten years in prison was imposed on Samuel Harris, a traveling salesman of 102 Madison street, by Justice Seabury, in the criminal part of the Supreme Court today. He was convicted of the abduction of Ethel Angel, a seventeen year old girl of Louisville, and of keeping her in restraint at the Hotel Bradford at 69 East Eleventh street.

The girl had quarreled with her step-mother in Louisville and had lost her position as stenographer. She met Samuel Gutman, a traveling salesman. He took her to a restaurant and agreed to marry her, she claimed if she would come to New York with him. Once he got her to this city, it was testified in Harris' trial, Gutman sold her to Harris for $15. Harris took her to his rooms, she swore, and at the muzzle of a gun forced her to lead a wretched life.

Clark J. Gordon, of counsel for Harris, asked for a light sentence saying that "this was only a first offense meriting corrective punishment in Elmira," and promising that should Gutman ever be arrested Harris would testify against him.

"State's were built for just such creatures as this man," was the reply of Justice Seabury. Gutman is still at large.

NEARLY TWO-THIRDS OF RADIUM OUTPUT FROM AMERICAN ORES

We Have the Greatest Known Supply of Radium-Bearing Ores in the World But Not One Grain is Produced Here

Washington—The United States Bureau of Mines has made a startling discovery that more than two thirds of the radium supply of the world is being made in Europe from American ores shipped abroad through the foresight of foreign scientists. Radium is purchasable only in very small quantities and at a price equivalent to $2,250,000 an ounce, and although, from the investigation of the Bureau of Mines, it is shown that the United States has the greatest known supply of radium-bearing ores in the world, not one gram has been produced here.

Several months ago rumors reached the Bureau of Mines that in Colorado there had been an increased demand for carnotite, the radium carrying ore, and that this ore was being shipped abroad in considerable quantity. It was also reported that the Europeans were insisting upon only the highest grades of these ores and that a great amount of lower grade ores was practically being wasted. R. B. Moore and K. L. Kitchin, in charge of the Denver laboratory of the bureau were requested to investigate these rumors and they reached the surprising conclusion that while all the radium placed upon the market in the last few years had been produced in Europe, a large portion of this had come from American ores.

In the mining of these carnotite ores it is probable that five tons of material capable of concentration are thrown upon the dump for every ton that finds its way to market. To develop methods for concentration of these ores and save the valuable material now wasted is one of the problems before the Bureau of Mines with fair prospects of a successful conclusion.

Pitchblende, the richest of all radium-bearing minerals, has been found in small quantities in Connecticut and in the feldspar quarries of North Carolina. Practically the total American output has come from the mines in Quartz Hill, Gulpin county, Colorado.

Practically every ton of carnotite mined in 1912 went abroad, and as the American deposits are far from being inexhaustible, we are rapidly depleting our own reserve and are shipping from this country material of great value and of unknown possibilities which cannot be replaced. The value of the radium in this ore at the minimum market price would be $528,000.

Delightful Outing at Loch Mary

A delightful picnic and fishing party at Lakeside Park was arranged and chaperoned by Mrs. J. A. Mills, who is known for her ability to plan affairs for the thorough and complete amusement of any who are so fortunate as to participate. The party left home at an early hour, with an abundance of good things to eat, arrived at Lake Side Park where the edibles were deposited until noon hour. The merry party prepared to cast their lines for the unsuspecting little fishes that are so numerous in the famous Loch Mary. This sport was a source of much pleasure as well as showing their keen ability as fisher men and women. Quite a number of fishes were cast ashore furnishing a plentiful supply of something good to eat. After the morning hours had passed and noon was rapidly approaching, it was discovered that something even more desirable than fishing was in sight. The huge baskets were brought into view and displays of lots of tempting things were brought forth. Bacon and hot coffee were soon prepared by the ladies and the dinner spread. Each in their own way did ample justice to this beautiful spread. After the party had thoroughly enjoyed the entire day in the various ways arranged for their pleasure, they repaired to their homes exhausted from enjoyment but well repaid for their fatigue.

Those present to enjoy the affair were: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. O'Brien and children Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Salmon and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McLean, Misses Mollie, Katie, Maggie and Ellen Whallon, Mrs. Millan and little son, Curtis; Mrs. L. H. O'Brien and D. Henry, Jr.; Mr. Mike Bohan and the chaperon, Mrs. J. A. Mills of Madisonville.

Mrs. Mills is well known in Earlington and has a host of friends who delight in having her charming personality in their midst. Any party is fortunate to secure her valuable assistance in carrying out any past for the fun of the merry makers.
